JAP SAVES A RUSSIAN.

Thomas Wensensakye Dives O After Joseph Laskowski.

New York, July 23, Thomas Wensensative, a Japanese who has been a steward in the United States may New Jersey mayy reserve, which is lying at Hoboken, has saved a Russian from drowning.

He was on board the ship when he heard a cry for help coming from the river and saw a man struggling in, the water. He plunged into the river, and with a few powerful stroker reached the drawning man's side. Selzing him with one hand he struck out for a painter's float which was near by and soon had the man on the float. When he had been given a stimulant the rescued man said he was Joseph Laskowski, a Russian, and that he had fallen into the water from a pier. He could not swim and would have been drowned had it not been for the prompt action of the Japanese sailor.

FOR GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP

Would Have Each State Own Its Lines, With Joint Board to Regulate Interstate Traffic-Would Consolidate Telegraphs Under Postoffice Department.

Lincoln, Neb., July 23,-W. J. Bry an's plan for the reformation of the Democracy has been made public. In it Mr. Bryan favors radical changes, but advocates the election of Judge Parker for president as a good beginning. He declares for state ownership of railroads, government control of telegraphs and abolishment of private monopoly, and he favors the income tax and the election of federal judges by the people. Mr. Bryan says.

My selection as standard bearer of the Democratic party in 1856 and again in 1866 made me the nominal leader of that party and as such I did not feel at liberty to ingraft new doctrines upon the party creed. I contented myself with the defense of those principles and policies which were embodied in the platform. Now that the leadership devolves upon another, and I bear only the responsibility that each citizen must bear—namely, the responsibility for my own opinions, my utterances and my conduct, I am free to undertake a work which, until how. I have avoided—namely, the work of organizing the radical and progressive element in the Democratic party.

The money question is for the present in abeyance. The production has leasened the strain upon the dollar, and, while bimetallism is as sound in theory as it ever was, the necessity for it is not so apparent.

was the necessity for it is not so apparent. But, while the people cannot be brought at this time to consider the various phases of the money question, they can be brought to consider certain other questions with which the Democratic party must deal.

State Ownership of Railroads.

I have heretofore refused to take a po-I have heretotore refused to take a position upon the question of government ownership of railroads-first, hecause I had not until recently studied the subject, and, secondly, because the question had not been reached. Recent events have convinced me that the time is now ripe for the presentation of this question. Consolidation after consolidation has taken place until a few men now control the railroad traffic of the country and defy both the legislative and executive power of the nation. I invite the Democrats, therefore, to consider a plan for the government ownership and operation of the railroads. of the radroads.

The plan usually suggested is for the purchase of these roads by the federa government. This plan, it seems to me government. This plan, it seems to me, is more objectionable than a plan which involves the ownership and operation of these roads by the several states. To put the railroads into the hands of the federal government would mean on enormous contralization of power. It would give to the federal government a largely increased influence over the citizen and the citizen's affairs, and such centralization is not at all accessary. The several states can own and operate the railroads within their box. Detects have been arrested here by secret service officers, charged with passing counterfeit half dollars at Easton. Pa., and Phillipsburg, N. J.

A board, composed of the represents A coard, composed of the representatives from the various states, could deal with the joint traffic of the various lines if the federal government had the reli-ronds to build there would be a constant warring between different sections to cure a fair share of the new building an development, but where this is left to the state the people in each state can decid what railroads they desire to build up a Government Control of Telegraphs.

While the Democratic party in the antion is advocating the government owner ship of railroads the Democratic party | the cities should upon the same theory esponse the cause of municipal ownership of municipal franchises. We have six reached a time when the posterfice depart ment should embrace a telegraph system as well as a shall system. The telegraph lines do not reach as many people as the railroads do, and while the abuses of private ownership have not been so open and notorious, yet there is no reason why tions are doing in this respect.

The private monopoly must be destroyed. The Democratic platform adopted in Kaussa City declared the private monopoly to be indefensible and intolerable. The Democratic party has in two cam paigns stood for an income rax. The plank was omitted this year because the men in control of the party thought is would jeopardize success in the eastern states. This objection may have weight when the appeal is made to a particular section and to the wealthy men of that section, but it cannot have weight when the party goes forth, as it must ultimately do, to appeal to the masses.

The contest above outlined must be made whether the party wins in Novem ber or not. A single election is only an incident in the life of a party. For more than a century the Democratic party has stood forth as the representative of cer-tain great ideas. Jefferson founded it Jackson defended it, and even Cleveland could not destroy it. If Mr. Parker is elected, his administration will rid as of imperialism and of the threat of a race issue and give us greater freedom in taking up economical questions.

CONDITION OF TRADE.

Dull at Present-Fall and Winter Outlook Good.

New York, July 23.-Reports received this week from special agents of the International Mercantile agency at the leading centers of accumulation and distribution in the country show very little change in conditions, Actual trade is dull, a normal situation for the season of the year. The outlook for fall and winter business is better in some sections, notably the south and southwest, than it has been for a long while.

Culmer judgment than obtained in the beginning has reduced the estimates of loss by flood to 30,000,003 bushels of winter wheat for the four states most affected. One reliable trade journal has issued a bulletin which points to a total yield of this cereal of 610,000,000 bushels and an exportable surplus of nearly 145,000,000 bushels. These are facts that have by President Donnelly of the laterna- heiped to dislodge some of the discour-
